I do not agree with electric cars in Maine. Obvious reason being batteries lose their efficiency in cold weather. Why state of Maine has to adopt to California rules is mind boggling! It won't end well and I suggest Maine votes Republican in the future to get away from the taking over our state by liberals. They make no sense. Climate change is socialism under cover. State of Maine 1.3 million people compared to California's 39 million people. No there is nothing smart about going to electric cars in Maine.
