Dear BEP members,

This rule is unnecessary and will hurt our rural state. I would ask you to look at the history of technological advancements to prove my point. Simply put, the more technology advances, the cleaner it becomes. This is a trend that does not need to be pushed along by government regulations, it is just a matter of letting technology produce what it produces best, a cleaner environment. There is no reason to take California's blanket standards into our state because we are not the same in geography, topography, population and income. Please do not allow these regulations to be lowered onto the backs of Maine citizens.

Thank you,
Clifford Gibbs
