As a Maine citizen and resident of rural Somerset County, I am writing to voice my opposition to the mandating of selling a certain percentage of all new vehicles in our state as electric . I am not opposed to making these vehicles more affordable, practical and in wide spread use. I am opposed to mandating this outcome. If and when EVs are able to satisfy the consumer needs and are economically feasible for most Mainers, we will buy them. Trying to legislate it will likely fail and have unintended consequences.

Sincerely,
Diane Zavotsky
