Freedom if choice in a free nation. If a consumer wants and electric car, by all means. Good ideas need not be jammed down peoples throats. This is a bad idea. I am sure the electric car owners in Chicago are questioning thier choice right now, due to their chargers not working in such cold weather. If you haven't been in Northern Maine in the winter, I can tell you that it is much worse than Chicago's cold weather on a daily basis. This should never happen. I oppose the new mandate. Don't force electric cars upon our great people. Eric Pooler
