I'm absolutely OPPOSED to this rule change. Rural Maine in particular does not need to worry about emissions. Even so, an unelected board of a handful of people should be in no position to mandate anything. Mainers, and really anyone, should be able to purchase and drive the vehicle that fits their budget and lifestyle, and EVs are simply unaffordable or impractical for the significant majority of Maine. There are so many problems with this, excluding the aforementioned matter of choice.

Please kill this ridiculous proposal.
