Lynne Cayting,

Please help put a stop to this madness. The majority of people in Maine cannot get by with just an electric car, nor do they want them. To force them down our throats is just wrong. America should be about freedom of choice, and this would essentially quash that by forcing us to select from cars most of us don't want. We have plenty of electric vehicles available for those that do want them. If/when the infrastructure is ready nationwide to travel as we do in ICE vehicles, we can revisit the subject then.

Thank you.

Sincerely,

Jeffrey Carr
