I am opposed to this rule change. This will make operating my small family business more expensive. I personally drive a hybrid vehicle and enjoy the fuel efficiency, however I don't believe setting up Soviet era rationing of non-zero emissions vehicles will help the already struggling Maine economy. This will be yet another hurdle for small businesses and struggling families. Maine should rely on Federal regulations and allow the free market to make corrections and people understanding that choosing a ZEV is an economic choice.
