Kindly include my comment as being OPPOSED to Chapter 127-A. During the December storm, we were without electricity for almost a week. Had we only had an electric car, charging would have been impossible. Further, the additional weight of electric vehicle batteries will no doubt adversely impact rural roads, bridges and parking garages which are already in need of repair and were not designed for such weight. Finally, I often require a trip in excess of the nominal ranges of existing electric vehicles. Additional time due to the need for charging is not practical. Thank you for your attention.
