Hello,

It is ironic to me that the reason I am able to comment on this rule in February is because of a storm in December that caused widespread power outages for the state. If we were dependent on electric cars how would we all charge our cars in the rather frequent events of power outages?

There are so many other reasons to not move this ruling forward, this is just one significant, somewhat humorous reality. Please stop this coercive and ridiculous proposed rule.

Thank you,
Melissa Winslow, New Gloucester
