Hello honestly how would anyone honestly think this will work especially up here in solon maine we was without electricity for 5 days from the last storm so does that mean the state will pay for our wages because we can't get to work personally I will never buy a electric vehicle I would go back to a horse and buggy like the armish do before I was forced to buy into this scam to line some politicians pockets and another thing they will be mining the earth which is far worse then drilling for oil I could go on and on but the common sense in this country is gone this makes zero sense hopefully this will be turned down people should make there own decisions on how they want to get around..
