This is flat out insane .. there is no absolutely no facts to support this draconian overreach by UNELECTED officials.

RV are not market friendly nor are they environmentally sound ... lithium batteries.

Cost of purchase in a state with diminished incomes

Lack of infra structure or required power nor transmission lines even if additional materialized by a magic wand.

This reeks of a political PR stunt lead by the disastrous Mills...seeking to make Maine a socialist third world failure.

Also EV's in a cold rural environment are unreliable and quite frankly only a moron would think they would work... wear that badge proudly.
