This is absolutely ridiculous. We are a rural state where electrical vehicles are not practical. How do I get to my camp in the Allagash with a Battery Vehicle? Is the state going to put charging stations in every rural, remote corner of our beautiful state? Wake up! We could buy gas when we were shut off from electricity in Rural Maine. How do I run a generator to produce electricity, with electricity. Common sense needs to come back to politics! Electric vehicles will not work in Maine until the entire state is like Portland. This will take a couple hundred years. Stop the insanity!
